Thanksgiving Committee Sets Goal at $66,000

Tomatoes - Melons - 'Taters

October is the month of Fairs and it is very fitting that this should be the month that we write about our Truck Farm. If you can stagger through this entire article you will see why before you get through. Barium's Truck Farm Department is under Mr. Joe Clark, a man who was reared very close to Barium Springs. He has been our good neighbor from the time he was a lad. He lived for a time in Florida and became thoroughly acquainted with truck farm business in that prolific state. He knows every hill, gulley and valley on the Barium Springs farm. This combined knowledge makes him an ideal Truck Farm Manager. He knows just what articles will grow here and just what articles we need.

Under his management there are 43 different articles furnished our table from this one department. Some of the figures are rather impressive. If you have a paper and pencil handy, add up a few of these figures:

Our average annual yield runs something like this: 1,000 bushels of sweet potatoes; 400 bushels of Irish potatoes; 600 bushels of string beans; 400 bushels assorted beans; 500 bushels of tomatoes; 3,000 heads of lettuce; 2,000 stalks of celery; 500 pumpkins; 4,000 watermelons; 5,000 cantaloupes; enough broom corn to make 200 brooms, of which the orphanage gets 100; enough carrots to tint the hair of every youngster in this end of Iredell County; enough onions to give the entire County a delicious flaver; with squash, radishes, egg plant, okra, pepper, popcorn, peanuts, and everything else in the catalog or alphabet!

Maybe, to give you a better idea of our Truck Farm department and its everyday use, we ought to take you into the kitchen.

You know people quite often ask us if we have a dietitian. A dietitian is a person who gets up on Monday morning and plans a balanced diet for the week. Then the purchasing agent goes down to the store and buys the necessary articles to prepare that balanced diet. About all you need is a good imagination and a fine can opener; and, of course, good credit at the grocery stores.

In the upper photograph is a group of workers on the truck farm, who have bunched together after having filled several crates of sweet potatoes. (Note: All are residents of Barium, except Henry Houston. You'll recognize which one of the group we are "excepting".) In the lower photographs you see Mr. Joe Clark, the truck farm manager, who is supervising the filling of the crates in the left hand picture, and who has a satisfied look on his face in the photograph on the right. He's busy just now harvesting sweet potatoes, beans and tomatoes, and he has that satisfied expression any day that you could see him at Barium just now.

We do not have such a dietitian at Barium. We have one far more expert. She, together with the Truck Farm manager, prepare the budget and the menu for at least a year in advance to get the right daily production of beans, greens, tomatoes and everything like that to make a balanced diet, served—not with a can opener—but with our own little bunch of bean-stringers and pea-hullers.

Here is the yearly program: We will start with January, a time of year when most people forget about gardens. We have on our table: collards, rape, turnip greens, cabbage, and from our own canning, tomatoes and stringed beans, with a daily diet of both Irish and sweet potatoes. This carries through January and February.

In March, in addition to this, the onions appear—and how good those early March onions do taste! They are so good that even the cows will break down fences to get to them, and you know that's the

REGENTS MET AT BARIUM IN SEMI-ANNUAL SESSION

Superintendent Johnston Reported on Present Trends of Child Welfare

With 11 of the 20 Regents attending the semi-annual session of the men and women in charge of directing the affairs of the Presbyterian Orphans' Home was held at the institution on the night of Monday, September 28th. The business was concluded at a single assembly. A much smaller than usual attendance was due to the fact that there was a called session of the Board on September 1st. This no doubt accounted, too, for the brief business session since several business matters were transacted at the September 1st meeting.

The Board elected officers, naming Rev. W. M. Currie, of Belmont, president; Rev. Eugene Alexander, of Manchester, vice-president, and Mrs. Z. V. Turlington, of Mooresville, as secretary. Rev. Mr. Currie, who was vice-president last year, succeeded Rev. John R. Hay as board president. Mr. Hay has acted in this capacity for the past four years and felt impelled to relinquish that post. Mrs. Turlington was re-named as Secretary of the Board.

In the absence of the newly elected president, the standing and permanent committees of the Orphanage will be named at a later date.

It was announced at the meeting that Rev. Chester Alexander, pastor of the Howard Memorial Presbyterian Church at Tarboro, has been named as a Regent from Albemarle Presbytery to succeed Mr. Stamps Howard, also of Tarboro, who had been prevented from attending most of the Board meetings because of business and who had resigned from the directorate.

Mr. Jos. B. Johnston, superintendent of the Orphanage, made a report which largely dealt with the problems related to chiild care and the changing conditions in the state and nation regarding this. He told the Regents that it had been expected that the number of applicants for entrance into the Orphanage would be materially reduced this past year, because of steps being taken to institute Mother's Aid, but that this had not been true.

His report was concerned with the offer of the federal government to furnish $1.00 for every $1.00 appropriated by both the state and the county for child welfare work, such funds to be used to keep a home intact by giving the family a small sustenance each month. This would lower the demands upon Barium Springs and all other Orphanages. He also pointed out that there were many children in the state who were being neglected because they weren't delinquent enough to be placed in institutions for delinquent children, and neither was the I. Q. sufficiently high to permit their acceptance in Orphanages.

A special committee was appointed to study the whole matter of future policies of the Orphanage as related to the acceptance of children and their care after they have once been admitted here.

The treasurer's report, made by Ernest Milton, dwelt upon the financial situation at the half-year mark, and plans for the Thanksgiving Offering this fall. He told of the appointment of Synod's committee and what it planned to do. Elsewhere in The Messenger is a separate account of the initial meeting of this "steering" committee.

Regents here included President John R. Hay, Hickory; Mrs. W. E. White, Graham; Rev. Eugene

Great News

There have been many months in which good news has been recorded in The Barium Messenger, but the array of facts available for the October issue seems to be the greatest of all. Ten Sunday Schools or parts thereof, have recently either re-instated a plan of regular giving, changed the methods of assisting Barium, or have started giving regularly for the first time. In addition to these, the Auxiliaries crashed through recently with a lot of good news. The tendency is to devote considerabble space to all of this, but The Messenger is crowded this month. Briefly, the good news is contained in the following:

Rocky Mount Second Sunday School in Albemarle Presbytery has re-instated a plan of regular assistance and is giving the fifth Sunday Offerings to Barium.

Glen Alpine and West Marion Sunday Schools, in Concord Presbytery, have started the Offering-per-month plan.

Highland Sunday School, in Fayetteville Presbytery, has voted $5.00 a quarter to Barium and Midway Sunday School in the same Presbytery, has re-instated the Offering per-month plan.

The Beginners' Department of Oxford Sunday School in Granville Presbytery has started giving one offering each month.

The Men's Bible Class of Cramerton Sunday School, in Kings Mountain Presbytery, has been giving an Offering-per-month, but it has decided to contribute $100.00 a year toward the support of a child. This will amount to much more than the one Sunday's Offering each month. (This is the second Men's Bible Class which this year decided to give $100.00 toward a child's care.) In the same Presbytery, the Ladies' Bible Class of Mount Holly Sunday School has established a Birthday box and are sending the Birthday Offerings to Barium.

Goldston Sunday School, in Orange Presbytery, has adopted the offering-per-month plan.

Beth Carr Sunday School, in Wilmington Presbytery, has recently sent a sum to Barium that indicates regular aid.

Now for the Auxiliaries:

Fayetteville Presbyterial has had eight district meetings during the latter part of September or the early part of October, and all Offerings at all eight district conferences are being sent to the Orphanage.

Caldwell Memorial Auxiliary, in Mecklenburg Presbyterial, has increased its monthly appropriation from $7.50 to $10.00.

Circle 15, of the Charlotte Second Auxiliary, also in that Presbytery, has thrilled the Orphanage with gifts that already total $83.00 in 1936-1937, and the surmise is that more is to follow.

THIS SUM WILL ENABLE CAPACITY OPERATION

Present Encumbrance of the Orphanage Would Be Eliminated This Year

From Charlotte Observer of October 17th.

A goal of $66,000 was adopted on October 16th by the Presbyterian Synod Committee appointed to raise the Thanksgiving offering for the Barium Springs Orphans' Home.

This goal, it was explained, will solve the problem of support, clear the institution of debt, and place 55 more children in the unoccupied beds of the home.

The special committee which is headed by J. Archie Cannon of Concord includes nine others with a representative appointed for each one of the nine presbyteries of the synod. This committee met on October 16th at the Barium Springs institution and had lunch together with the children of the home. The committee of which Mr. Cannon is chairman was appointed by the synod at its meeting in Statesville in September to secure a contribution from every member of the 538 churches of the Synod.

The other members of the committee are as follows: J. Nat Harrison, Greenville, from Albemarle presbytery; J. J. Barnhardt, Concord, of Concord presbytery; Claude Rankin, Fayetteville, of Fayetteville presbytery; J. C. Cooper, Henderson, of Granville presbytery; J. S. McKnight, Shelby, of Kings Mountain presbytery; David Ovens, Charlotte, Mecklenburg presbytery; W. H. Holderness, Greensboro, Orange presbytery; Rev. J. W. Miller, Clarkton, Wilmington presbytery; Winston-Salem's chairman is yet to be named.

The committee set $66,000 as the goal for the synod and assigned to each presbytery a quota of the sum to raise in their territory. It was said that to reach this goal each presbytery will be asked to add 50 per cent to its last year's gifts.

It was decided to adopt uniform campaign literature to be distributed to each presbytery with its goal and its committee printed on the material in order that each Presbyterian may know just what is expected of his presbytery, J. Archie Cannon, David Ovens, and Ernest Milton were appointed as a publicity committee.

Mecklenburg presbytery has chosen the Standard Printing company office as headquarters, Miss Sadie Grier as secretary. There will be a county-wide meeting next Thursday for Mecklenburg presbytery at the Chamber of Commerce.

only place that onions don't taste good—when served with milk under the cow's own mixing.

In April, the potato diet dwindles somewhat, but lettuce appears as an added inducement to spring appetites; and in May, those first timid radishes like little new rabbits decorate the table. Children thrive on them. Some of us old worn-out adults sometimes get heartburn from eating them. The Barium radishes are very kind to your stomach. Through an ingenious method of irrigation and fertilization the Truck Farm gang has managed to produce radishes just three weeks old, and they have not been radishes long enough to get tough and hot. They are just good.

In June, the first tomatoes and the new Irish potatoes appear. This is the month that we rely on the Orchard gang to tease our appetites with early fruits, and it is not until July that the Truck Farm comes in strong. Then, cantaloupes appear. Cucumbers, beans, roasting-ears, squash, and the whole battery of both heavy and light artillery shell the dining room. Then you can see the Howard Cottage girls in a shady place every afternoon, busily shelling peas, stringing beans, and shucking corn.

In August, we still have lots of things, but we forget their names, because that is the month that watermelons dominate the situation. My! How we do enjoy those grand melons! Joe Clark all but sleeps in the watermelon patch during that month!

In September, new sweet potatoes, with the sweetness fairly oozing, make their appearance. In October, celery and lots of other things, too. In November, what do you reckon? That's the month "When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock", and those pumpkins just get us right for that Thanksgiving feeling when we hope and sometimes have, turkey and cranberries! In December, maybe we don't have time to think about much but Christmas and candy and such, but three times a day, we get the foundations laid for our growth and happiness from butterbeans, black-eyed peas and all other products that are stored away for winter use from our Truck Farm.

We have a very kindly feeling toward our Truck Farm at all times. The fields are tucked away in places that are hard to reach. When visitors come to see us it is easy to drive them around and show them the big alfalfa fields, the corn fields and the orchards but it is difficult to find the truck farm fields. They are not big fields. They are down in inaccessible valleys and hillsides, and a visitor has to be very persistent and also a good walker to really view this department. We here at Barium Springs are so apt to take it for granted.

However, the Truck Farm has been in the limelight for the last six years, because it really broke the depression in this part of the country. Let me explain a little bit: Six years ago, Barium Springs, along with all the rest of the country, was in the depths of a depression. You remember that depression was frightening. It had us here at Barium really panicky. Some of us were actually afraid we were not going to have enough to eat. We didn't know whether we were going to be able to keep all the children here because the money income had dropped to such a low ebb. Along about that time, some citizens of Troutman, our little nearby town, decided to have a Community Fair. The Fair was not going to have any carnival attached to it, but just have a display of the articles raised and manufactured within a radius of ten miles of the little town of Troutman. This ten miles included Barium Springs; and to get our minds off the terrible disaster that had struck our country, we got busy and gathered up a sample of everything that we raised at Barium. Then we all went down to the Fair. We thought that we could at least enjoy ourselves before the weather turned cold and be frozen or starved to death.

And then, we commenced to take in the Fair really. It was held in the school house at Troutman. It took a large section of the display space to house just a little sample of each of the things raised at Barium Springs.

There was wheat and corn and hams and wool, and alfalfa raised from our farm. There were samples of the dairy products with a tabulation of the amount. There were peaches, pears, apples, strawberries and honey, produced by the Orchard department; and then to cap it all, there were 40 different articles raised by the Truck Farm department, with a great big watermelon at one end, and great big luscious egg plants at the other.

Anybody who could look at that display and really be afraid of starving to death was just plain dumb. We came home from that Fair feeling that although something might have happened to the temples of money and big business, that the God of the Hills, the Great Jehovah, could still be depended upon, and that we with our clumsy efforts could do what we could, with faith, because that God yielded the increase. Maybe there isn't anything very thrilling in killing potato bugs. Certainly there are lots of things more pleasant than digging potatoes; and maybe we don't look for sermons in filling gulleys, but when it's all summed up, there is something about it all that strengthens our faith and gives us courage.

GREAT NEWS

Suppose all Circles of that Auxiliary did likewise. Well, let your imagination picture the reaction at Barium!

May other facts be available in November! ! !

JOHNSTON DISCUSSES CHILD WELFARE IN N. C.

Mooresville Enterprise.

Mr. Joseph B. Johnston, of Barium Springs, in beginning an address before the Mooresville Rotary club said it was customary for superintendents of orphanages to talk about their institutions and money, but rather than that he would talk politics, and chose for his subject, "Child Welfare."

The speaker stated that North Carolina has more orphanages and more orphans per population than any other State in the Union. This large number could be materially reduced from the orphanages if the State of North Carolina would take the matter more seriously and increase the appropriation for mothers' aid and child welfare work from the $35,000 per year to $100,000. He appealed to every Rotarian to take the matter to heart and endeavor to bring the appropriation from the State to a substantial increase. In 1927 the State appropriated $50,000 for mothers' aid but during the session of 1933 it was reduced to $35,000, greatly hampering the work that was inaugurated with the larger sum. The first national recognition given child welfare was during the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt, and again under the Hoover administration and under Franklin D. Roosevelt. There is no way of estimating the wonderful work that has been done throughout the nation for the neglected and unfortunate children. The speaker stated that if the State would give $100,000, the one hundred counties raise $100,000, the national government would match it dollar for dollar and by so doing the child's interest would be greatly advanced, the orphanages relieved of the burden of taking care of hundreds of children from "broken homes," and it would cause the mothers to feel that they were not paupers and just outside the poor house. Mr. Johnston said the State has provided for the idiotic children; it has amply provided for crippled children and for the treatment of tuberculosis, defective eyes and removal of tonsils, and treatment of teeth. But there is no place for the child of dulled intellect, the ones we call morons—the ones whose average intelligence denied them entrance into orphanages and other institutions of like nature. The State of North Carolina has a great opportunity of doing a grand thing if an appropriation can be secured through the next legislature to provide for this element of children. Mr. Johnston said that if the legislature would provide such sum as indicated above and the counties would do their part, and the federal government step in with its bounty, 47 per cent of the children now in orphanages could be taken care of by their mothers in their own homes. Where it costs about $300 per year for a child in the orphanages, a mother could take care of her child on approximately $40 per year.

The address was one that brought the issue straight to the minds of the Rotarians and was one of the facts well placed.

S. S. Meals

Using ten cents per meal as an average, the Sunday Schools of the Synod could have served 78,512 meals with their Offerings of the past months, which is 12,278 more meals than in the same period of last year, and 16,253 more meals than in the same period two years ago. Interpreted in dollars and cents, this means that the Sunday Schools have shown an increase of $1,227.82 over the Offerings at the conclusion of September, 1935, and $1,625.30 more than the gifts at the close of September, 1934. Organizations Aiding

In the past six months, the Orphanage has received gifts from 527 branches of the 538 churches in the North Carolina Synod. Gifts have been received from 243 Sunday Schools, 167 church budgets have alloted percentages to Barium, and 117 Auxiliaries have sent contributions to the support fund. Concord Presbytery leads in church budgets reporting, with 35. To Fayetteville Presbytery goes the double honor of having the most Sunday Schools and Auxiliaries report gifts, 49 and 22, respectively. In the church budget and Sunday School field, Mecklenburg follows the leaders with 30 and 37, respectively, while Orange, with 18, is second in Auxiliary giving.

Some Cottage News

ANNIE LOUISE

Dear Friends,

Here it is time to write the news again, and it seems only a few days since we wrote you last.

Miss Greene had the music club last Wednesday. Two of our girls played in the club. After the meeting was over Miss Greene served refreshments. We all enjoyed it very much.

We are getting on all right in school. Two of our girls go to the show this month for making the highest average—one from the first grade and one from the second grade.

Miss McGoogan spent the first Sunday in October at her home. Her sister, Mrs. Sallie Howard; Mrs. J. A. McGoogan and Mr. Archie Howard came back with her. We were glad to see them, but sorry they had such a short time with us. And, we want to thank Mrs. Howard for the nice pound cake she brought us.

We also want to thank Mrs. McGoogan for the money she gave us for candy.

We attended two games Saturday morning, between Barium and Concord and one between Barium and the Junior Home. We won both games. We want to thank Mr. Johnston for the treat that he gave us while we were enjoying the game.

—Louise Brock.

FARM NEWS

We've had a busy month. We are cutting pea-vine hay. The alfalfa is almost ready to cut. Some of the alfalfa has already been cut.

The Fair is just over and one of our colts entered and won second prize. Two of our mules entered and got first prize.

We just finished cutting corn and have it in shock. We will shuck it this winter. We hope it will not be so hard.

Our sheep are fed good by our sheep boy. We have 64 sheep now.

Our barn over at the farm is full and the mules are fed well every day.

INFIRMARY

Hello Folks,

How's everyone since school started? Hope you haven't had the flu. We have had about 76 cases of it. They are all about well.

One of our boys has the whooping cough.

Joyce Weeks had an operation for appendicitis about two weeks ago. She is small but was an excellent patient. She started back to school today.

It sure turned chilly quick. Most everyone has started wearing sweaters these chilly days.

Friday night the High School went to the Troutman Community Fair at Troutman. There were many pretty things there.

Saturday we went to see Davidson play V. M. I. in football. Davidson sure did some excellent playing.

Saturday we had two games with our 100-lb team boys and our 125-lb. team. Our smaller teams are promising to be tomorrow's football heroes.

We received our report cards last week and most of us passed on everything. It was a big improvement over last year's.

This is Infirmary signing off until next time.

LEE'S COTTAGE

Hello Folks,

Here we are again.

We hope you had a pleasant month. We are all having a good time playing football. We have seen all of our games and one at Davidson.

One of our dear boys, John Nungezer, is going to leave us this Friday. He is going to Stewart, Fla., to stay with his father. We hope he has a very good time.

Tom McCall received a clothing box with some clothes from his clothing people.

We all had a very good grade in school this month.

Some of our boys went to Appalachian to see a football game and to play a game.

We will play Concord Friday; that is, our varsity will.

—The Three McCalls,
Billy, Jack and Tom.

FIRST HALF OF YEAR IS GRATIFYING

SYNOD	$3,485.93	4.3c	19.7c	60c

The first half of 1936-1937 has been concluded, with the encouraging revelation that the Synod of North Carolina has contributed $1,636.25 more to the Orphanage in that period than in the same six months of 1935-1936. That's a per capita increase of 1.8 cents per member of the entire Synod. The September, 1936, income was $162.32 greater than that September, 1935, a negligible amount when figured on a per capita basis.

Eight of the nine Presbyteries in the Synod have a higher per capita average than at the close of September, 1935. Granville Presbytery leads all others with an increase of 5.5 cents per member, with the others on the positive side of the ledger in the following order: Kings Mountain, 4.6 cents; Albemarle, 3c; Orange 2.7c; Fayetteville, 2.2c; Mecklenburg 1.6c; Wilmington, nine-tenths of a cent, and Concord, six-tenths of a cent.

There was a considerable shake-up in the standing of the Presbyteries in September. Winston-Salem remained the leader. Albemarle went from third position to second and Kings Mountain advanced from fourth to third. This sent Concord from second berth in August to fourth place in September. Orange continued to remain in fifth place, but Granville surged forward from ninth place to sixth. Mecklenburg, Wilmington and Fayetteville Presbyteries, ranking in that respective order, consequently shifted back one notch because of Granville's advancement.

The following tabulation shows the above changes, and also the ratings of each Presbytery after September, 1935:

Presbytery	This Month	Last Month	Year Ago
Winston-Salem	1st	1st	1st
Albemarle	2nd	3rd	3rd
Kings Mountain	3rd	4th	4th
Concord	4th	2nd	2nd
Orange	5th	5th	5th
Granville	6th	9th	8th
Mecklenburg	7th	6th	7th
Wilmington	8th	7th	6th
Fayetteville	8th	8th	8th

Income Distribution

The $15,849.37 that the Presbyterian Orphans' Home received to date from the Synod of North Carolina is distributed between the church budgets which have been responsible for $5,418.40, the Sunday School Offerings which have amounted to $7,851.22, and the Auxiliary giving, which totals $2,678.75. On a percentage basis, this shows that 49.2% of the Orphanage's income in the past six months has come from Sunday School Offerings, 34% has been sent from church budgets, and Auxiliaries have contributed 16.8%.

In church budget giving, Mecklenburg leads; Concord is ahead in Sunday School contributions, and Orange Presbytery has first honors in Auxiliary responses. Runner-ups in these are, respectively, as follows: Concord, Orange and Albemarle.
